

NEPAL SUN SELF-ASSESSMENT WORKSHOP REPORT
27 May, 2014
Kathmandu, Nepal

Background

In order to measure the progress and efficiency of the Scaling Up Nutrition Movement (SUN) at a global and national level, a SUN Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Framework was developed in 2013. In order to ensure mutual accountability, a comprehensive SUN Movement M&E Framework was agreed in 2012 to measure whether the Movement was delivering results. The format for information collection is organised around the four SUN processes. The processes are summarized as 1) Bringing people into a shared space for action 2) Ensuring a coherent policy and legal framework, 3) Aligning programmes around common goals 4) Financial tracking and resource mobilization

In this context, 2014 is the first year that the SUN Movement is inviting all national multi-stakeholder platforms to organise self-assessment workshops in order to contribute to the annual reporting on progress. The monitoring of national progress forms part of the monitoring routine of all SUN countries Platforms. It is envisioned the outcomes of workshop will contribute to an annual process as a method of ensuring accountability and so that pathways of change can be identified and shared as learning opportunities. To help SUN Country National Focal Points to facilitate this self-assessment, the facilitation notes were provided and explained with greater details through teleconference meetings.

Purpose	To review national progress of the country against the four SUN processes, to feed into the 2014 State of the SUN Movement Progress Report
Expected Result	Validated scoring of progress 2014 (April 2013-April 2014) of the national platform on all 4 SUN processes.
Participants	A range of stakeholders from government and networks (donors, civil society, UN, business)

Methodology for measuring the progress

Progress on each of the four processes is measured by examining the behavioural characteristics of SUN stakeholders at country level. For each of the four SUN processes, the level of behaviour is determined with the use of a pathway of change. Each pathway has steps, called Progress Markers (PM). The PMs indicate progressive levels of behaviour that can be expected as the SUN Movement evolves. Each PM is further detailed with examples (“signs”) of behaviour to help score whether this step is getting started (score 1), on-going (score 2), nearly completed (3), or completed (4) in the country. The use of PMs is grounded in an Outcome Mapping methodology: a well-known method for tracking behavioural changes as a vehicle for progress in complex and non-linear development environments.

Workshop proceedings in summary

- The SUN self-assessment workshop was inaugurated by Hon'ble Member of National Planning Commission Dr. Yagya Bahadur Karki and the purpose of this workshop was highlighted by Mr. Bishnu Prasad Nepal, Joint Secretary, Social Development Division, National Planning Commission Secretariat, Government of Nepal.
- The brief overview of SUN (at national as well as global level) was presented and facilitated by Mr. Radhakrishna Pradhan, Programme Director, National Planning Commission Secretariat. The update also included Nepal's participation and sharing of country progress in the SUN Global Gathering in 2011, 2012 and 2013.
- The SUN M & E Framework and a brief overview of measuring the progress on 4 processes was presented and facilitated by Jhabindra Bhandari, National REACH Facilitator, National Nutrition and Food Security Secretariat, National Planning Commission, and highlighted the reporting processes as required by SUN Movement Secretariat.
- In the morning, the four mixed groups were formed who actually reviewed processes (one process for one group) based on the scoring guidelines; and details of their scoring was presented in the larger group with their explanations on comments and suggestions. The individual group work was facilitated by a team of National Planning Commission and National Nutrition Food Security Secretariat.
- In the afternoon, 5 network groups (government, civil society, donor, UN, business) were formed to work on each processes based on the reporting format. In order to solicit inputs from larger group and ensure validation, each network presented the the scoring with further explanations on comments and suggestions for further improvement.
- At the closing of the workshop, Mr. Radhakrishna Pradhan thanked all the participants for their time and active participation. He also appreciated their inputs while scoring the progress and the suggestions as well as ways to improve this further.

Some of the key reflections

- The level of participation and inputs from several networks (government, civil society, donors, UN and business platform) was quite encouraging. While the business platform is yet to be initiated formally, their interest for participation and engagement in SUN movement has been expressed which is appreciated by all stakeholders.

- The workshop provided an important opportunity to update about SUN movement in general and the ways to track progress in 4 processes.
- As this monitoring exercise was new to many stakeholders, the needs for common understanding and clarity in some of the steps of 4 processes were discussed in the context of country situation.
- The stakeholders pointed out that the outcomes of this workshop would be a baseline progress in 2014 to measure similar progress in 2015.
- The participants from business platform showed keen interest to engage in SUN movement and requested government (NPC) to facilitate the establishment process of business platform for SUN movement.
- Monitoring of 4 processes are perceived as important pathways to ensure scaling up nutrition where government's leadership and commitments are further enhanced and subsequently, the engagement of multi-sector platforms e.g. civil society, donors, business, UN agencies etc. is strengthened.
