Executive Summary

Scaling Up Nutrition - SUN - is a Movement with a stakeholder base that is growing, thinking, learning, and moving together towards a common vision to create a world free from malnutrition. The SUN Movement Strategy for 2021-2025 (SUN 3.0) aims to support countries in effectively implementing prioritised multisectoral nutrition country-driven actions. In order to facilitate a smooth transition process, the SUN Operationalisation Group (Ops Group) was initiated by the Executive Committee (EXCOM) to address several outstanding issues that were raised during the strategy development process and to guide the roll-out of SUN 3.0. The Ops Group endeavoured to work through four Working Groups, with colleagues across the Movement, particularly country-based colleagues, to carve out ways of working to support country ownership and to accelerate implementation of SUN 3.0.

The Ops Group and the four thematic Working Groups, focussing on country delivery, MEAL and knowledge management, finance, and governance & accountability, met virtually on a regular basis for a period of six weeks. Primary and secondary data were collected for all groups and Working Group members also consulted their own constituencies on specific issues when required or conducted in-depth research on specific topics.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Ops Group proposes to the Lead Group a set of 13 recommendations that align with the four Strategic Objectives of the SUN 3.0 strategy with the aim to receive guidance from the Lead Group on issues pertaining to the two broad categories of governance & accountability and delivery. The recommendations are structured to address the most pressing issues identified by the Ops Group in order to allow a smooth transition and operationalisation of SUN 3.0.

The recommendations are set forth within the spirit of SUN being a Movement and within the principles as defined in the Strategy and the practices of the Movement. Five complementary underpinning factors of success which are essential to ensure reliable, consistent and results-orientated country-driven work have been identified as: context; country and global governance; mutual accountability; alignment, synergy and harmonisation; and capacity development. These elements determine success at country level and all actors of the Movement have to recognise and work according to these factors.

The following recommendations place countries firmly at the centre of the SUN Movement, in accordance with SUN 3.0, and therefore include concrete proposals regarding the manner by which the SUN Movement is governed, a modus operandi for mutual accountabilities, and a pathway for implementation. The recommendations have implications throughout all levels of governance and aim to provide the SUN Movement with the tools and capacity to better deliver on nutrition agendas. It is for this reason that the Lead Group is requested to provide approval of the following actions:

Governance & Accountability

Recommendation 1: The Lead Group, recognizing the need to align SUN governance structures to SUN 3.0, should approve the Terms of Reference for the EXCOM as proposed by the Ops Group in Annex 1 and its Rules of Procedures in Annex 2. It also requests the EXCOM to work with the Ops

Group within the period of its mandate to finalise the Rules of Procedures, to work through any inconsistencies, and align other structures accordingly, ensuring a stronger country representation at all governance levels.

Recommendation 2: The Lead Group should request that the Ops Group update and finalize the draft Unified Accountability Framework (Annex 5), as a tool to strengthen enhanced mutual accountability across all components of the SUN Movement and all levels of governance and to establish a system of 360-degree accountability at the global level, at the regional level, within networks, and at country level to be presented at the next Lead Group meeting for final approval.

Defining Success

Recommendation 3: Noting that the definition of success for the SUN Movement as articulated in SUN 3.0 entails different dimensions of the collective effort, the Lead Group should endorse, in its next meeting, a final recommendation on the definition of success building on Annex 3 and simplified in Table 1 and on a set of indicators to measure success as outlined Annex 4.

MEAL and Knowledge Management

Recommendation 4: The Lead Group should request that EXCOM report annually on relevant quantitative and qualitative nutrition data relevant to the Lead Group's work and the wider SUN Movement. This data should be drawn from the MEAL system and other sources and should support better informed decisions and support to countries.

Ensuring Delivery at Country Level

Recommendation 5: The EXCOM to prioritize investment in multi-stakeholder mechanisms and strong institutional nutrition coordination in countries, and to ensure SUN country-based representation, including Parliamentarians, across all governance structures, including the SUN Executive Committee, SUN Network governance structures, and corresponding regional platforms. This applies in particular to fragile and crisis-affected states (FCAS).

Recommendation 6: The SUN Movement Coordinator, the EXCOM, and the Global Support System (GSS) to prioritize advocacy efforts to target national governments, upon request and in support of the SUN Government Focal Point/Country Coordinator, on embedding nutrition within National Development Plans and other foundational documents, including national legislation.

Recommendation 7: The Lead Group should promote the SUN Movement response to crisis-affected states, by giving a stronger voice and role for humanitarian actors within SUN governance system, across global, regional, and national (MSP) levels and to work along the humanitarian-development nexus. This includes an approach where capacity is phased in and out as needed during a crisis, where nutritional gains are protected, and where recovery starts immediately.

Networks

Recommendation 8: The EXCOM to promote stronger oversight of and coordination of the Global Support System, including the SMS, and review each year the harmonized annual GSS SUN relevant workplans, emanating from the mandate(s) of the GSS within SUN 3.0, and to create mechanisms for national stakeholders to review and acknowledge global network secretariat workplans and ensure that country needs are appropriately supported in these workplans.

Capacity Development and Technical Assistance

Recommendation 9: The EXCOM to oversee the development of a technical assistance and a capacity development framework, including a capacity and risk self-assessment by the GSS, building on existing tools, to better assist and respond to SUN Countries' needs and requests, particularly in FCAS.

Understanding and Prioritising Financing Issues

Recommendation 10: As a prerequisite to any measures in fulfilment of the finance priorities of the SUN 3.0 strategy, the Lead Group to agree that it will ensure finance and investment are: prioritized at all levels of the SUN Movement; a top priority for high-level outreach and advocacy; are coordinated in a way that brings a unique focus to supporting countries to create investable nutrition business cases that secure and leverage funds from global and domestic resources for programmes and platforms. The Lead Group, EXCOM and the SUN Movement Coordinator are held accountable by Movement members for prioritising finance and investment outcomes.

Recommendation 11: The Lead Group to decide from three options (as outlined in the body of the report) to facilitate an effective, transparent, and dedicated finance capacity development platform, with dedicated finance training, TA, internal and external expertise, and funding – to allow countries to tailor, implement, renew, and sustain new and innovative financing; foster cross-country capacity development.

Recommendation 12: The Lead Group to endorse the staged framework (as proposed in the body of the report) to be piloted in a group of countries that aims to provide best practices and models for other countries and create a virtuous cycle of finance in countries by allowing for: better use of existing finance, leveraging additional financing, and notably piloting innovative financing. The Lead Group requests the SUN Donor Network to fortify its coordination role to facilitate this work in country.

GENERAL:

Recommendation 13: The Ops Group to continue its work until its mandate ends in September 2021 to allow a due consultation process and finalise the specific outputs, to decide upon its working modalities within the Group for the remaining of the time and to report back to the Lead Group at its next meeting.

¹ This document uses the term «Global Support System» as defined in Strategy 3.0 (2020: 33): «The GSS refers to the four SUN networks and the SUN Movement Secretariat in SUN 3.0. The GSS will work together as one to support optimal in-country nutrition impact».

Introduction

Scaling Up Nutrition - SUN - is a Movement. Its force and uniqueness lie with its members, comprising of countries, donors, civil society organizations, philanthropies, UN organizations, and small-, medium-, and large-sized enterprises. The stakeholder base is growing, thinking, learning, and moving together towards a common vision to create a world free from malnutrition, in all its forms, by 2030. Since 2010, SUN actors and stakeholders together have achieved considerable progress in positioning nutrition on the agenda of governments, at country, regional and global levels, and they unite a wealth of knowledge and expertise.

The SUN Strategy 2021 – 2025 (SUN 3.0) harnesses this knowledge and expertise as well as the lessons that have been and are being learned everyday across the Movement. The strategy aims to support countries in effectively implementing prioritised multisectoral nutrition actions through functioning multi-stakeholder mechanisms, data-informed decisions, adequate, equitable, and sustainable financing, and strengthened capacity at the country level, including accountability of all actors at all levels. Ultimately, the strategy repositions the principles, values, and spirit of the Movement closer to the communities most affected.

Challenges, however, remain. Given the global economic downturn due to the COVID-19 pandemic, with ODA shrinking, nutrition financing is both more crucial and more challenging than ever. Global priorities are currently focused on halting the pandemic, on economic recovery, on climate change, and more. Nutrition is inherently intertwined in all of these issues, but requires a strong, country-led Movement to ensure progress is not lost, that nutrition remains a key health and development priority, and that the WHO Global Nutrition Targets 2025 and the Sustainable Development Goals are achieved.

The SUN Operationalisation Group (Ops Group) was initiated by the Executive Committee (EXCOM) to address several outstanding issues that were raised during the strategy development process and to guide the roll-out of the SUN Movement Strategy for 2021-2025 (SUN 3.0), working under the auspices of the Lead Group. Four Working Groups were formed to develop a set of recommendations to the Lead Group on

- (1) Country Delivery,
- (2) MEAL, Knowledge Management & Learning,
- (3) Finance, and
- (4) Governance and Accountability.

Scope

The SUN Ops Group was brought together to help advise on and support the transition process from SUN 2.0 to SUN 3.0. The Ops Group is made up of colleagues drawn from across the Movement, including the country focal points and country-based network representatives, network representatives at the global level, the SMS and ExCom members. Through the four Working Groups, the Ops group endeavoured to reach out across the Movement, with particular emphasis on understanding country-based views.

The scope of the Working Groups covered new ways of working that support the shift to true country ownership of the Movement and help to accelerate implementation of SUN 3.0. Each Working Group situated the scope of its work within the four Strategic Objectives of the SUN 3.0 Strategy. Their specific scopes can be summarized as follows:

WG1 - Country Delivery: how to strengthen the capacity of SUN countries to drive the nutrition agenda through improved nutrition governance, including MSPs, and accountability frameworks; and technical assistance requirements of SUN countries.

WG2 – MEAL and Knowledge Management: define success for SUN 3.0 and how it will be measured; how to capture knowledge and experience of SUN Countries to support peer-to-peer learning; how to build consensus that will enable SUN Countries to advance national nutrition priorities where there is a knowledge gap; and how to strengthen the dissemination and use of data, technical nutrition information and new evidence in decision-making.

WG3 – Finance: ways to support financing of country nutrition plans (nutrition-specific and nutrition-sensitive); how to identify financing and investment opportunities and support country preparedness; how to build a more sustainable financing framework with mechanisms to facilitate engagement between countries and the providers of finance.

WG4 - Governance and Accountability: a fit-for-purpose Terms of Reference for the Executive Committee and best practices for a global governance structure of networks; ways to ensure an effective Accountability Framework.

Methodology

The four thematic Working Groups defined their respective scope of work in a dedicated Terms of Reference. All Working Groups met on a regular weekly basis for up to two hours per meeting. Dedicated sessions with the chairs were also held at least once per week. All meetings took place virtually, were led by their respective chairs and supported by consultants of HumanImpact5 – Hi5. Primary and secondary data were collected for all groups and Working Group members also consulted their own constituencies on specific issues when required or conducted in-depth research on specific topics. Sessions were focused on issues identified, with a view to addressing how to implement SUN 3.0 effectively in a country-led and country-driven manner. Documentation was shared prior to meetings to serve as a basis for the work undertaken, and minutes of each meeting were approved by the working group members and shared on the SUN SharePoint System. The WG on Governance and Accountability has given a particular focus on a balanced approach in its methodology. Regular Core Ops Group meetings and full Ops Group meeting took place in order to ensure information sharing, alignment on ways forward and cross-cutting issues were addressed. A specific meeting for all Working Group chairs also took place to achieve this aim.

The Ops Group faced some limitations, particularly the compressed timeframe leading to a limited time to develop and review recommendations. As a result, not all deliverables could go through a thorough consultation process beyond the Ops Group. However, the Ops Group will work with SUN colleagues to mitigate this through specific briefing with the EXCOM SUN Government Focal Points and an outreach to all networks and members, inviting feedback in writing in English, French and Spanish. Furthermore, the many issues raised in this report are long-term are cross-cutting and will require further work as SUN 3.0 is implemented.

Key Challenges: moving from 2.0 to 3.0

The complexity of nutrition requires multi-sectoral, multi-stakeholder action at sub-national, national, regional and global levels. One strength and challenge of the SUN Movement is its diversity. SUN has the capacity to address nutrition holistically from different stakeholder perspectives but it also requires a flexible approach among these stakeholders if the spirit of a Movement is to be maintained. The network structure is a unique feature of the SUN Movement, giving a voice to the different constituencies within the governance of the Movement. The challenge in the implementation of SUN 3.0, however, is the need to reduce the silos between the networks, to improve coordination amidst the different interests of the SUN members, to build sustainable synergies, as well as to enhance financing and impact at country level. This links to a challenge that revolves around the need to champion mutual accountability at all levels of the SUN Movement, including its management and leadership. Informed and transparent decision-making, based on available data and the realities in countries, in particular in fragile and conflict-affected countries (FCAS), is tightly linked to accountability and governance.

At the country level, adequate prioritization for embedding nutrition in national development plans is needed, requiring domestic and international resource mobilisation, as well as greater advocacy from within countries themselves but catalysed and supported by high-level advocacy from the SUN Movement. Coordinated and pro-active risk-informed support to fragile and conflict affected states (FCAS) and countries affected by disruptive events is lacking and requires greater attention. Coordination, stimulation, and targeted capacity development, addressing country needs in finance and investment, MEAL and knowledge management, and on technical assistance is missing.

Finally, the frequently changing nutrition focal points within governments, changing staff of UN-agencies and INGOs, and high turn-over within the SUN support structures, have been identified as one of the biggest challenges for the SUN Movement to act, think, and grow together. In some countries the multi-stakeholder mechanisms, i.e. platforms, are not well established and/or not all nutrition relevant stakeholders are participating. Even though many good entry points for joint planning and joint action exist, the full potential has yet to be used. SUN 3.0 provides the space for this and can make it happen through its convening power at different levels.

Recommendations for SUN 3.0

The Ops Group proposes to the Lead Group a set of 13 recommendations that align with the four Strategic Objectives of the SUN 3.0 with the aim to receive guidance from the Lead Group on issues pertaining to the two broad categories of governance & accountability and delivery as outlined in the Terms of Reference of the Ops Group. This section is therefore structured accordingly, addressing the most pressing issues identified by the Ops Group that need guidance from the Lead Group in order to allow a smooth transition and operationalisation of SUN 3.0. Terminology used in the recommendations follow definitions and language used in SUN 3.0 to ensure and maximise alignment of this report with the Strategy. All references to the Lead Group refer to its chair and its members as a single entity.

The recommendations are set forth within the spirit of SUN being a Movement and within the principles as defined in the Strategy and the practices of the Movement. Complementary to these parameters, the Ops Group would like to highlight five factors of success which are essential to ensure reliable, consistent and results-orientated country-driven work that is supported by adequate financing: context; country and global governance; mutual accountability; alignment, synergy and harmonisation; capacity development (see Graphic 1). These elements determine success at country level. All actors of the Movement have to recognise and work according to these factors.

Governance

The SUN 3.0 strategic focus on countries has major implications for the governance of the SUN Movement. It requires that governance structures across all levels of the SUN Movement are critically reviewed to be able to effectively and efficiently respond to the aspirations and expectations formulated in SUN 3.0. This resulted into the revision of the current Terms of Reference for the Executive Committee and the need to align other governance structures accordingly.

Recommendation 1: The Lead Group, recognizing the need to align SUN governance structures to SUN 3.0, should approve the Terms of Reference for the EXCOM as proposed by the Ops Group in Annex 1 and its Rules of Procedures in Annex 2. It also requests the Executive Committee to work with the Ops Group within the period of its mandate, to finalise the Rules of Procedures, work through any inconsistencies and align other structures accordingly, ensuring a stronger country representation at all governance levels.

The Accountability Framework

The SUN 3.0 strategy stresses the importance of a mutual accountability framework that reinforces the strength of SUN as a Movement, the need for agile and light governance and fosters transparency at all levels. SUN countries already are held accountable at the country level through their participation in the UN system, through their relationship with financing partners and donors, through the Joint Annual Assessment (JAA) process, and through their citizens, parliaments, and civil society. Without putting further burden on countries, the need for accountability should be extended to all levels of governance across all constituencies.

Recommendation 2: The Lead Group should request that the Ops Group update and finalize the draft Unified Accountability Framework (Annex 5), as a tool to strengthen enhanced mutual accountability across all components of the SUN Movement and all levels of governance and to establish a system of 360-degree accountability at the global level, at the regional level, within networks, and at country level to be presented at the next Lead Group meeting for final approval.

The Way Forward: The Ops Group to further refine the draft of the Unified Accountability Framework (Annex 5) within the period of its mandate, taking into consideration that global structures are accountable for providing advice, guidance and coordinating support when required to help drive national level action, especially in fragile and conflict-affected countries (FCAS).

Defining and Measuring Success

The SUN 3.0 strategy outlines that “SUN will be judged a success if the Movement can demonstrate how its collective efforts clearly contribute to accelerating the improvement of nutrition outcomes and systemic change at the national and subnational levels.” (SUN Strategy 2021 – 2025: 41). Success will be increasingly defined in terms of country impact and systemic change at the country level for better nutrition outcomes. These efforts are closely linked to the need for data-informed decision-making, consist of different dimensions that are aligned with the four Strategic Objectives and can be measured through a set of core indicators.

In order to be able to measure success, inform decision-making, and ensure accountability within the SUN Movement, process, outcome, and output indicators, both of qualitative and quantitative nature, need to be defined. In addition to any new indicators that may be needed, the existing 79 MEAL indicators will be the basis for selecting indicators according to the country context and country needs.

Recommendation 3: Noting that the definition of success for the SUN Movement as articulated in SUN 3.0 entails different dimensions of the collective effort, the Lead Group should endorse, in its next meeting, a final recommendation on the definition of success building on Annex 3 and simplified in Table 1 and on a set of indicators to measure success as outlined Annex 4.

The Way Forward #1: The EXCOM to oversee the validation and finetuning of the proposed dimensions of success and indicators carried out by the Ops Group through regional consultations within the next four months in order to render them specific, measurable, actionable, relevant and time bound or time sensitive (SMART). The consultations will result in manageable, and comparable indicators, building on the JAA process, and will also serve the purpose of further outlining how success can be achieved across all levels of governance.

The MEAL System & Knowledge Management (KM)

The primary role of the MEAL system and KM is to support SUN countries through enabling timely, evidence-informed decision-making at all levels of the SUN Movement in a way that opens-up the space for further action. It contributes to better governance; in particular it fosters transparency and accountability. Through the gathering, processing and dissemination of data, information and best practices, the MEAL system and KM helps to track and measure change and to enable learning, peer exchanges, and feedback loops. In order to do this effectively, the Ops Group recommendations are aimed at streamlining and strengthening a MEAL system and a global KM system that works for all actors across the Movement, inculcating a data-driven culture and improving data literacy to expand the use of the MEAL system and KM across the Movement. They are built on the comparative advantage of the SUN Movement and its members in generating and facilitating the flow of relevant evidence and experience.

Recommendation 4: The Lead Group should request that EXCOM report annually on relevant quantitative and qualitative nutrition data relevant to the Lead Group’s work and the wider SUN Movement. This data should be drawn from the MEAL system and other sources and should support better informed decisions and support to countries.

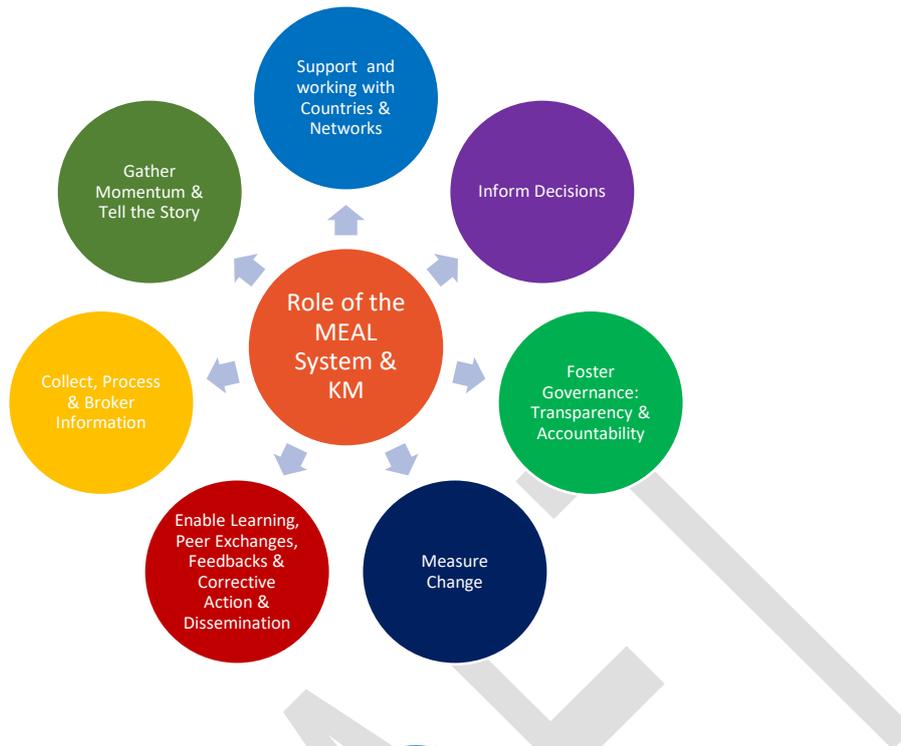

In order to achieve the implementation of recommendation 4, the following ways forward, reflecting previous evaluations and reviews, are proposed:

The Way Forward #1: In order for the EXCOM to report annually on SUN relevant nutrition data, including risk data, the SUN Movement Coordinator, the GSS, including SMS, national MSPs, and the EXCOM itself have to invest in, maintain, strengthen, and use the MEAL system and KM. Some of the ways this can be achieved include

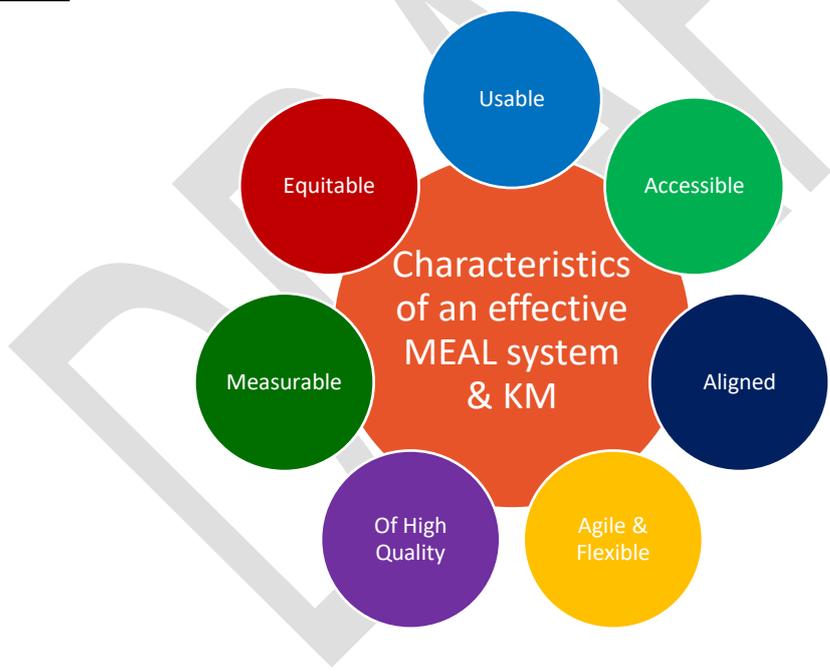

- Identifying and filling nutrition and data literacy gaps and capacity needs at all levels
- Better identification, capture and dissemination of good practices and lessons learnt within SUN countries
- Ensuring brokering of knowledge of evidenced-informed approaches and monitor data needs and capacity building on informed decision-making processes through the GSS
- Building capacity to nurture & use the MEAL system and KM at all levels, including through regular peer-to-peer learning exchanges
- Reviewing qualitative and quantitative data at all levels, including by the SUN Movement Coordinator and the EXCOM, on a regular basis to support decision making, course-correction, and accountability.

The Way Forward #2: To enable this shift to a data culture, SUN governance and stakeholders at all levels should recognise the multi-faceted role of the MEAL system and KM and its key characteristics, as illustrated in Graphic 1 and Graphic 2, respectively.

Graphic 1:

Graphic 2:

The Way Forward #3: Building on the role and the characteristics of the MEAL system and KM, the GSS should hold regional consultations to co-create with the SUN members an updated MEAL and global KM system that builds on recommendations from previous evaluations and reviews, and leverages existing systems in country and other initiatives, such as the CSN SUN Labs.

- This co-creation process should take place over a period of three to five months and aims to build Movement-wide ownership of the MEAL System and a global KM system. It will help to build a community of MEAL and KM practitioners that should strengthen MEAL and KM capacities and feed into the system at different levels. It should also result in a MEAL system and KM that is achievable and relevant, considering recommendations from other processes, and is not duplicating other data collection processes.

- It will also take into consideration that the SUN Movement must be better risk informed and strengthen the humanitarian and development nexus in supporting fragile and conflict affected countries and countries that are affected by sudden events, such as natural disasters or abrupt political changes, and slow onset events, such as pandemics and climate change. This will ensure that risk data is included in the updated MEAL system.

The Way Forward #4: In order to support the translation of knowledge and learning at the country level, expand the existing MEAL Advisory Group to include KM in its mandate and to include experts from SUN countries and academia, as well as support a global KM system namely enabling best practices and lessons learnt from SUN countries to be identified and shared throughout the SUN countries, thanks to enhanced key partnerships and peer to peer exchanges.

The Way Forward #5: The MEAL/KM Advisory Group should explore the feasibility of working with partners to develop a one-stop-shop dashboard of nutrition data for use by SUN countries and the GSS. This could build on the existing MEAL indicators and the GNR country profiles and would include new information as developed through the process in the Ops Group WG on MEAL and Knowledge Management, keeping in mind that data should be freely and widely accessible.

The Way Forward #6: In order to take the first steps to develop a Risk Framework, the MEAL / KM Advisory Group, together with the GSS, will further consult with SUN Countries in view of developing a Risk Assessment Framework which can be used by SUN Movement members for planning and informed decision-making.

Ensuring delivery at the country level

The central element of SUN 3.0 is a country-led and country-driven approach in action. Country leadership and priorities are at the core of implementing SUN 3.0 and the four strategic objectives encapsulate this. An alignment is therefore necessary at all levels. At country level, the main hub for alignment is the SUN Government Focal Point / Country Coordinator and the SUN country teams. SUN 3.0 encourages flexibility for the countries to determine the appropriate structure to ensure multi-stakeholder collaboration, yet, a solid multi-stakeholder mechanism, including multi-stakeholder platform (MSP), which is responsible for coordination, resource mobilisation, technical support, learning, attention, and care, is necessary. This can only be achieved if continuity is ensured at country level and if the country coordination and national multi-stakeholder networks/ platforms/teams or mechanisms are truly inclusive 'safe spaces' where participants can openly discuss nutrition issues without organisational positioning.

Recommendation 5: The Lead Group to request the EXCOM to prioritize investment in multi-stakeholder mechanisms and strong institutional nutrition coordination in countries, and to ensure SUN country-based representation, including Parliamentarians, across all SUN governance structures, including the SUN Executive Committee, SUN Networks and corresponding regional platforms. This applies in particular to fragile and crisis-affected states (FCAS).

The Way Forward #1: In order to achieve this at global level, increased SUN country representation is encouraged in the Lead Group and the EXCOM should ensure implementation of its Terms of Reference as proposed by the Ops Group.

The Way Forward #2: In order to achieve this at country level, the EXCOM and the GSS, including the SMS, should empower, reinforce, and invest in the role of the SUN Government Focal Point /Country Coordinator, through their workplans and actions, as well as – wherever appropriate – support community level organisations.

The Way Forward #3: The EXCOM and the GSS should continue supporting all efforts by SUN Countries, including to pro-actively respond to their needs, to “institutionalise” nutrition at the highest possible level of government, including through a dedicated nutrition government focal point/country coordinator, in line with the countries own commitments when joining the SUN movement.

The Way Forward #4: The GSS, including the SMS, through its country membership, together with the MEAL advisory group by updating the MQSUN toolkit on the creation and maintenance of good practices for ‘safe spaces for nutrition’, including monitoring criteria. This should aim at improving the functioning of the multi-stakeholder mechanisms, including MSPs.

The Way Forward #5: The GSS, including the SMS, together with the country coordination and multi-stakeholder networks/platforms/teams and the MEAL Advisory Group, as appropriate, to establish a monitoring and onboarding mechanism and training to ensure that SUN Government Focal Points / country coordinators and SUN Country EXCOM members receive the appropriate support to efficiently and effectively carry out their respective mandates.

Recommendation 6: The Lead Group to request the SUN Movement Coordinator, the EXCOM, and the GSS to continue to prioritize advocacy efforts to target national governments, upon request and in support of the SUN Government Focal Point/Country Coordinator, on embedding nutrition within National Development Plans and other foundational documents, including national legislation.

The Way Forward: As needed, SUN Country coordination and national multi-stakeholder networks/platforms/teams² and the GSS develop a country-level advocacy framework and plan of action as part of their workplan and facilitate country consultations to support the integration of nutrition in National Development Plans and other foundational documents.

Recommendation 7: The Lead Group should promote the SUN Movement response to crisis-affected states, by giving a stronger voice and role for humanitarian actors within SUN governance system, across global, regional, and national (MSP) levels and to work along the humanitarian-development nexus. This includes an approach where capacity is phased in and out as needed during a crisis, where nutritional gains are protected, and where recovery starts immediately.

Networks

Networks are important actors across the SUN Movement. Their governance and collaboration is important to be able to deliver at country level and therefore, the role of countries need to be strengthened and networks structures be better integrated and work better together at country, regional and global levels. Networks can facilitate impact at country level, while recognizing the nature of the SUN Movement as a global, social movement and the differences across each national context.

² The Strategy 3.0 refers to “Country coordination and national multi-stakeholder networks/ platforms/teams” highlighting the need to take the diversity of national contexts into account, and thus, the terminology used here shall encompass any form of “effective coordination at the national and subnational levels” (2020: 31).

Recommendation 8: The Lead Group to request the EXCOM to promote stronger oversight of and coordination of the GSS, including the SMS, and review each year the harmonized annual GSS SUN relevant workplans, emanating from the mandate(s) of the GSS within SUN 3.0, and to create mechanisms for national stakeholders to review and acknowledge global network secretariat workplans and ensure that country needs are appropriately supported in these workplans.

Capacity Development and Technical Assistance

Countries are the drivers for action and thus, are essential to successfully implement SUN 3.0. Therefore, capacity development and technical assistance are fundamental ingredients and a consistent approach to assess capacities and needs at country level is necessary. SUN Pooled Fund as a source of funding for capacity development strategies is a tool to help support SUN Countries in this endeavour.

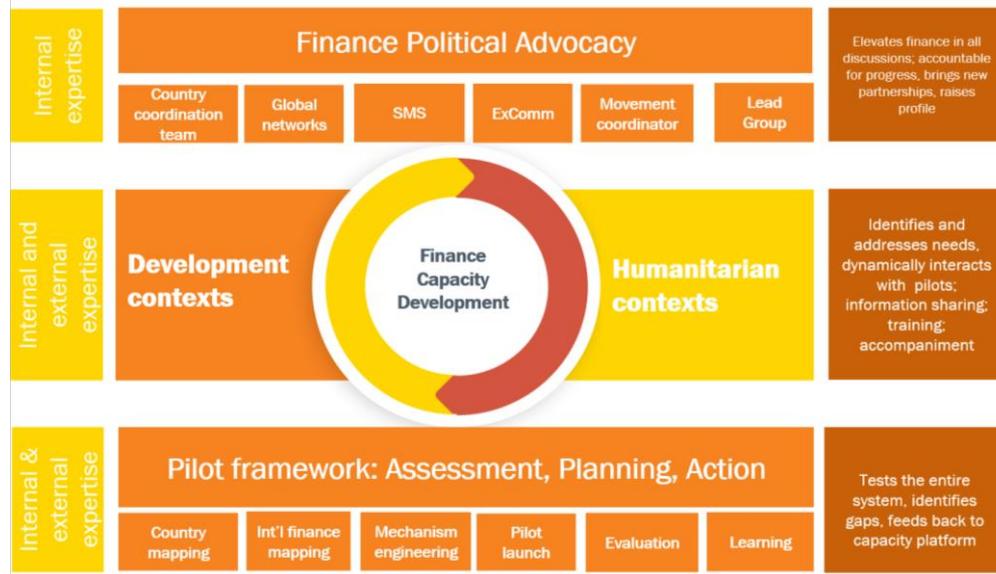

Recommendation 9: The Lead Group to request the EXCOM to oversee the development of a technical assistance and a capacity development framework, including a capacity and risk self-assessment by the GSS, building on existing tools, to better assist and respond to SUN Countries' needs and requests, particularly in FCAS.

The Way Forward: GSS supports countries to identify the key capacity building and technical assistance needs and gaps and is accountable to countries for this. GSS develops, with countries, capacity development and technical assistance strategies, and conducts milestone-based progress reviews.

Understanding and addressing countries' financing challenges, priorities, and strategies

Financing for nutrition is a top priority for SUN 3.0. Given the global economic downturn occasioned by the COVID-19 pandemic, with ODA shrinking, nutrition financing is both more crucial and more challenging than ever. Even before the onslaught of COVID-19, it was clear that 'business as usual' will no longer suffice for nutrition financing. Greater expertise and capacity will be needed for countries to apprehend the finance landscape and unlock opportunities to increase, pool, and blend nutrition-specific and nutrition-sensitive financing and investment. Building on the immense work undertaken to date, the Ops Group recommendations for finance are based on a concrete framework for action, with three distinct and interdependent levels: political advocacy and leadership at all levels of SUN; capacity development driven by country needs for finance and investment for nutrition; and a pilot framework for assessing, mapping and taking action to access increased finance and investment. Taken in aggregate, these recommendations will enable countries to chart their own path to achieve their nutrition financing needs.

Recommendation 10: As a prerequisite to any measures in fulfilment of the finance priorities of the SUN 3.0 strategy, the Lead Group to agree that it will ensure finance and investment are: prioritized at all levels of the SUN Movement; a top priority for high-level outreach and advocacy; are coordinated in a way that brings a unique focus to supporting countries to create investable nutrition business cases that secure and leverage funds from global and domestic resources for programs and platforms. The Lead Group, EXCOM and the SUN Movement Coordinator are held accountable by Movement members for prioritising finance and investment outcomes.

The Way Forward # 1: Lead Group, ExCom, and the SUN Movement Coordinator are accountable for and have a mandate to champion nutrition finance with countries at senior level through measurable output and outcome indicators, e.g. outcomes of engagement with finance ministers, outputs emanating from high-level meetings).

The Way Forward # 2: A focused 'finance task team' at the EXCOM level (see Governance and Accountability WG Report) to provide a locus for finance discussions and bring in required expertise.

The Way Forward # 3: Together with the SUN Donor, Business, and the Civil Society Network, as well as UN Nutrition, the Lead Group, ExCom, and SUN Coordinator develop an engagement strategy and action plan to generate the highest level of political momentum and commitment for nutrition in alignment with country priorities.

The Way Forward # 4: Specific high-level donor and investor engagement both by and through the SDN and SBN target increased nutrition-sensitive and nutrition-specific financing and investment.

The Way Forward # 5: Review the current or new structural setup from a finance and investment perspective at all levels of the Movement to identify gaps and conduct a stocktake of existing expertise within the Movement.

Recommendation 11: The Lead Group to decide from three options (see Way Forward #2 below) to facilitate an effective, transparent, and dedicated finance capacity development platform, with dedicated finance training, TA, internal and external expertise, and funding – to allow countries to tailor, implement, renew, and sustain new and innovative financing; foster cross-country capacity development.

The Way Forward # 1: Without adding to SMS structure and leveraging as wide a range of expertise as possible from among all SUN members, build a finance capacity development platform, which comprises an agile, low-cost, dedicated virtual resource centre with training offered, based on identified and prioritized needs; direct country-level capacity development with complementary aid; and a facilitation and coordination mechanism to effectively bring together countries and finance providers.

The Way Forward # 2: Options for set up: 1) build from existing internal resources – map resources, seek secondments, use of SUN Pooled Fund; risk of lengthy process with potential of insufficiencies requiring further work; 2) build from internal resources and bring in external expertise to kickstart the platform, allowing possible tapering of investment over time; relatively low risk and potential for donors to support; 3) outsource entirely through RFP and house in a separate entity funded through discrete donor sources or pay for service; high risk of lengthy process and unknown donor appetite.

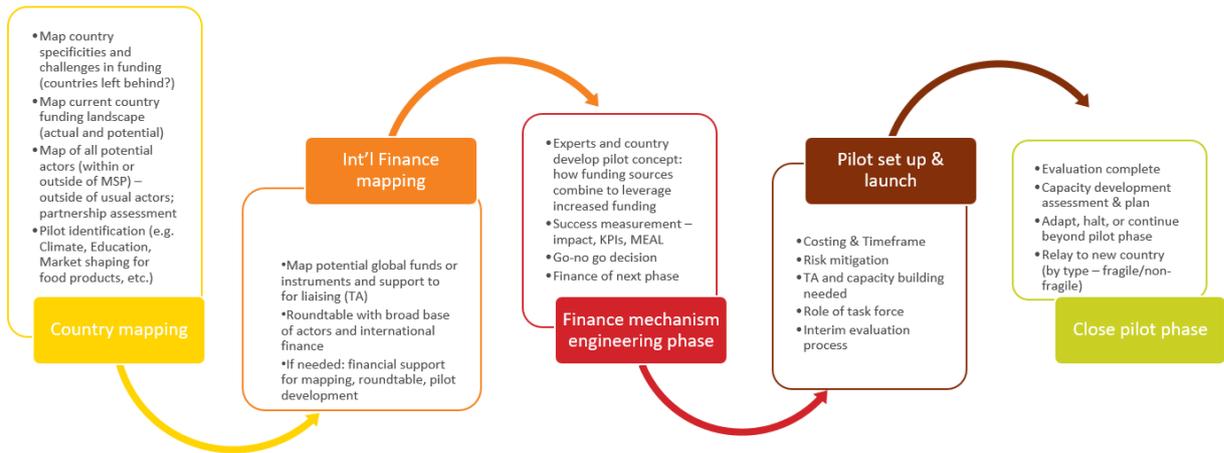

Recommendation 12: The Lead Group to endorse the following staged framework (see figure 4 below) to be piloted in a group of countries that aims to provide best practices and models for other countries and create a virtuous cycle of finance in countries by allowing for: better use of existing finance, leveraging additional financing, and notably piloting innovative financing. The Lead Group requests the SUN Donor Network to fortify its coordination role to facilitate this work in country.

The Way Forward # 1: Finance WG (pending Lead Group decision on Recommendation 13) to further elaborate the phased approach for country pilots (see graphic 4); develop transparent, inclusive, and representative criteria for initial selection of pilot countries to test the framework before opening to all SUN Countries; and ensure linkages with the finance capacity development platform (see above).

The Way Forward # 2: Finance WG (pending Lead Group decision on Recommendation 13) to propose an implementation plan for the framework to the ExCom.

The Way Forward # 3: Targeted and pragmatic review of SUN Pooled Fund, including all stakeholders, aimed at assessing fund orientations to support leveraging of country finance and development of country finance capacity for this, but also to support fund replenishment.

Conclusions

The Ops Group thanks the Lead Group the trust and confidence provided and recognises that considerable progress in resolving the most pressing outstanding issues was made but is conscious that some concrete outputs will benefit from further consultations.

Recommendation 13: The Lead Group to request the Ops Group to continue its work until its mandate ends in September 2021 to allow a due consultation process and finalise the specific outputs, to decide upon its working modalities within the Group for the remaining of the time and to report back to the Lead Group at its next meeting.

Annex 3: Draft: How Does the SUN Movement Define Success?

OUTCOME 1: GREATER PRIORITY GIVEN TO NUTRITION IN NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

S1: STRENGTHENED POLICY AND ADVOCACY ENVIRONMENTS FOR NUTRITION

according to SUN 3.0

COUNTRY FOCUS

Success means deeply embedding a multi-sectoral and multi-stakeholder way of working in support of countries. It means achieving sustainability of SUN activities at all levels, with country priorities guiding the engagement of the SUN Movement and nutrition being high on the national (political) agenda, well resourced, and recognising its interlinkages with other sectors.

IMPACT

Success is to show the impact of the SUN Movement and the change it triggers within a larger ecosystem. This means identifying and disseminating effective solutions and results, generating and documenting learning, and acting as a broker to translate a vision into action and to ensure multi-directional feedback loops.

ALIGNMENT

Success is when nutrition outcomes are accelerated in order to achieve the SDGs. This requires the creation of an enabling environment in which national policy and legal instruments are aligned with international instruments, all SUN stakeholders and networks are resourced and are positioning and acting together to support national plans, and in which public authorities are working across sectors.

OUTCOME 2: COUNTRIES PRIORITIES SCALED UP

S2: DEVELOPED AND IMPLEMENTED COUNTRY PRIORITIES

according to SUN 3.0

COUNTRY FOCUS

Success is when nutrition is integrated in National Development Plans and translates down to community-level impact. This requires agile, effective, and functioning national coordination of multi-stakeholder mechanisms and the strategic positioning of SUN Focal Points. It also means that the SUN Movement serves the most vulnerable people and groups and applies a Whole-of-Government/ multisectoral approach.

ADVOCACY AND PARTNERSHIPS

Success is that the SUN Movement is able to harness new partnerships, collaboration and builds champions from outside the nutrition community also to ensure sustainable financing and investment. It requires an increased involvement of the private sector in nutrition, beyond the corporate social responsibility (CSR) activities, and an increased engagement with media institutions.

FINANCE

Success is when national priorities are financed through different diversified financing sources and overall finance for, investment in, and spending on nutrition is increased. Ultimately, success is to achieve sustainability of SUN activities at all levels.

S3: STRENGTHENED COUNTRY CAPACITY THROUGH EFFICIENT PROVISION OF TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE AND KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT

according to SUN 3.0

NETWORKS

Success is when the nutrition networks exist at country level, are well integrated, and cross-network activities take place, leading to more cohesive and effective approaches for countries and removing silos between networks, building on their complementarity and focussing together on nutrition outcomes on sub-national, national, regional, and global levels. This requires that Networks are integrated into the country multi-stakeholder mechanisms and thus, boost their functionality. Success also means that Networks have a presence at sub-national level for greater impact.

MULTISECTORAL APPROACH

Success means the use of structured and innovative multi-sectoral and multi-actor approaches that are implemented at all administrative levels and programmes.

KNOWLEDGE SHARING

Success is when the wealth of best practices and lessons learned bear fruit for all SUN countries and inform decision-making processes at all levels. Information is used at country level systematically, feeds into the global level, and cross-country learning, especially peer learning and exchange, is facilitated. The role of networks as knowledge brokers is essential and their engagement in facilitating knowledge management and exchange contributes to success.

CAPACITY DEVELOPMENT

Success means that capacity in countries is developed as an ongoing process. This may require that once gaps are identified technical assistance to build capacities to fill these gaps are deployed.

S4: STRENGTHENED GOVERNANCE OF SUN THAT PROMOTES COUNTRY LEADERSHIP AND MUTUAL ACCOUNTABILITY

according to SUN 3.0

GOVERNANCE

Success is good governance practices, characterized by inclusion, transparency, accountability, and collaboration, at all levels.
